

Home > On the Road with the Grape Guy > Antepime Toscana 2017: A Quick Look

ON THE ROAD WITH THE GRAPE GUY

▼ ANTEPRIME TOSCANA 2017: A QUICK

☰ Category: On the Road with the Grape Guy

(February 11, 2017) ... TUSCANY - Look, it's not the flashiest of the tastings it always the best wines ... it is not the Grand Tasting, the Grand Selection or Grand Room (though an old fortress ain't a bad place to taste: Fortezza da and for lack of a better phrase, it's the ALSO-RAN tasting, those off regions & where they are just starting to hit the radar of wine drinkers and those just "k in terms of brand recognition ... But, let's face it, Bordeaux wasn't the top moment they made wine either, at some point some ancient wine scribe or "Hey, have you tried those wines from that French region ... (snaps his finger his memory) ... Bor-something ... you know, I see some real promise there, best wines, but real promising stuff. (enthusiastic snap) BORDEAUX, I knew it." Think of this tasting as one of those moments. LCBO Vintages

As for the wines, I did not take a copious amount of notes on them - by the tir see our shores (in Canada) they'll most likely be onto another vintage - b across these wines in your travels I would suggest picking up a bottle and giving it a try - these are the wines I liked from each particular region.

Wines of Cortona

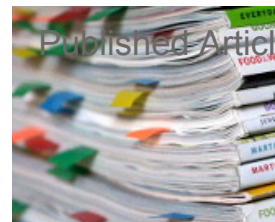

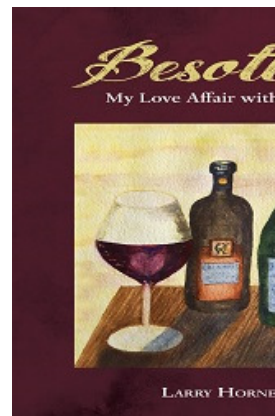

Val di Cornia

Valdarno di Sopra

Carmignano

Maremma Toscana

Isole d'Elba

Orcia

Colline Lucchesi

Morellino di Scansano

Montecucco

Tuscany Italy

Copyright ©2005-2017 Michael Pinkus Wine Review

5